

The centre of the circle is in the middle.

The circumference of a circle is the whole edge of the circle. Like the perimeter of a shape.

A diameter is a line that goes from one side of the circle to the other but it has to go through the centre.

A radius goes from the centre to one side of the circle. So a radius is half of a diameter.

